In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.

V. 2. Citations and Explanations:

Claims 1, 5, 7-8, 12, 16, 17, 21-22, 24, and 28-30 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Kaminski (US 20050044156A1). Kaminski teaches of a sending device sending electronic messages wherein each said electron message sent by said sending device contains data identifying each said electronic message... (paragraph 0004, fig1); a receiving device receiving electronic message (fig 1); means for temporary withholding from delivery to the intended recipient an electronic message, means for locating within said received electronic message data..., means for locating with said received electronic message data identifying said received message, means for preparing and transmitting a confirmation request to device. (paragraph 0019), means for receiving a reply to said confirmation request wherein said reply affirm or denies that said received message was sent (paragraph 0023), wherein affirmation if meet challenge, denied if failed challenge, means for permitting delivery of said received electronic message to the intended recipient when the reply so said confirmation request message affirms that the device is identified as the purported sender (paragraph 0024), means for locating with each said electronic message sent by said sending device data identifying each said electronic message (paragraph 0026), means for copying and storing said data identifying each said electronic message sent by said device and wherein said data identifying each said electronic message. (paragraph 0023), means for comparing the data identifying said received electronic message within said confirmation request with the data identifying said received electronic message within said confirmation request with the data identifying each electronic message... (paragraph 0040-0041), means for responding to said confirmation request message wherein said reply confirms that said sending device sent the received electronic message when the data identifying said received electronic message... by said device electronic message (paragraph 0023, 0040-0041), means for including identification string in electronic email (paragraph 0004).

Claims 2-3, 9-10, 13-14, 18-19, 25-26 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Kaminski (US 20050044156) in view of Nassiri (US 20020046250).

In regards to the limitations of claims 2-3, 9-10, 13-14, 18-19, 25-26, Kaminski does not explicitly teach of the limitations. In an analogous art, Nassiri teaches of wherein the data identifying said received electronic message by said receiving module comprises the data and time of the received message (paragraph 0015), ... electronic address of the sender and electronic address of the recipient (paragraph 0055). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the arts to incorporate the above teachings because the inventions are analogous art (i.e. email transmitting system). One of ordinary skill in the arts at the time of invention would have been motivated for the reasons discussed by Kaminski (paragraph 0002).

Claims 4, 6, 11, 15, 20, 23 and 27 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Kaminski in view of Mattahil (US 20050144239).

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/US05/28510

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.

In regards to claims 4,6, 11, 15,20,23 and 27, Kaminski does not explicitly teach of the limitations. In an analogous art, Mattathil teaches of encrypting electronic message (confirmation request message) and means for decrypting said reply to said confirmation request.....an d means for encrypting said reply to said confirmation request message (paragraph 0041,0073). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the arts to incorporate the above teachings because the inventions are analogous art (i.e. email transmitting system). One of ordinary skill in the arts at the time of invention would have been motivated for the reasons discussed by Kaminski (paragraph 0002).

Claims 1-30 meet industrial applicability as defined by PCT Article 33(4) because the claimed invention enable the transmission of electronic messages over data networks.
